$2000 Fire Damages R.C. Home

Redwood City's biggest fire in more than a year late Monday afternoon badly damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Thompson, 424 Stambaugh St., completely demolished a 1934 automobile, ruined 350 quarts of home-canned fruits, vegetables and jellies, and destroyed a collection of electrical trains which was valued at $1000.

Redwood City Fire Dept. was called to the blaze, which attracted numerous spectators and "sidewalk fire chiefs," at 6:48 p.m. Firemen said they believe the fire originated in the automobile, which was parked in the garage underneath a bedroom.

The Thompsons were eating dinner when Thompson, a barber, discovered the blaze. Mrs. Thompson stated the garage was engulfed in flames when the fire was discovered and there was no chance of driving the car out. Firemen removed the wreckage with a rope.

One of the biggest losses was the collection of electrical trains, which belonged to the Thompsons' son, Richard, 17, a sophomore at Sequoia High School, who has been interested in electrical equipment since he was 4 years old. The trains were stored in a shed in back of the house. The shed burned down.

Furnishings and clothing in two bedrooms above the garage were destroyed.

Considerable black smoke billowed from the six-room frame building.

Three fire trucks and 26 firemen answered the alarm. Regular firemen said today they were impressed with the co-operation of auxiliary firemen. Aiding in extinguishing the blaze were Chief Mark E. Ryan and Dep. Chief Joseph Lodi, who were in charge; 10 regular firemen, 4 auxiliary firemen, 2 rescue men, 4 high school auxiliary boys and 4 call men.

Mrs. Thompson today highly praised the efficiency of the fire department and credited the firemen with preventing the blaze from spreading to other parts of the building.

Firemen estimated the damage, which was covered by insurance, at approximately $2000.

The fire department was called to Broadway and Winslow St. at 8:46 a.m. today when a fire alarm box was accidentally set off.

Drunk Drivers Cause Accidents

Drunken driving accidents are growing in California out of proportion to accidents caused by other types of violations, Motor Vehicle Director Gordon H. Garland revealed today when he reported to Gov. Earl Warren's council that although accidents as a whole dropped 26.1 per cent in 1942, those involving drunk drivers increased 6.3 per cent.

Garland urged sterner penalties by the courts and a redoubling of efforts by all enforcement agencies to "end this menace to our war effort."

Drunken driving cases handled in San Mateo County courts last year numbered 427, compared with 412 in 1941 and 266 in 1940.

Heaviest increases in drunk driving cases were recorded in war industry areas such as San Diego and Vallejo. Solano County's cases numbered 443, an increase of 68.4 per cent over the previous year.

Two Negroes Face Federal Charges

Lorene Hill, 25, and Frank Hill, 29, central figures in a federal, state and San Mateo police probe, today faced prosecution on federal charges. Federal authorities took custody of Hill at the county jail, where he was held on a police charge. The woman, badly beaten by Hill, was transferred from Community Hospital to the county jail and booked en route to the U. S. Marshal. The investigation was the aftermath of a beating administered to the woman Friday in San Mateo. She suffered severe bruises. Both Hill and the woman are colored.

These Peninsula Mayors!

Staid Mayor Floyd D. Granger of Redwood City (above) and home-loving A. H. Sagehorn (below), mayor of San Carlos and likewise county treasurer, left their municipalities recently—lured to San Francisco to meet Lynn Bari (m-m-m), Gale Robbins (tsk, tsk) and Linda Darnell (can you whistle?). It was a premiere showing for "Hello, San Francisco, Hello." With Mayor Sagehorn is Mayor Monk of Sacramento. The picture starts at the Fox Sequoia in Redwood City Sunday.

EVACUATION: Gatchel Asks Posting of Instructions

Residents of Redwood City were reminded today by D. Fred Gatchel, chairman of the evacuation committee of the civilian defense council, to hang the evacuation instruction cards, distributed recently by Sequoia High School students, in places convenient for ready reference.

Included in the evacuation was a warning that citizens are not to decide when they wish to leave the area in times of emergency.

"Positively no evacuation is to be permitted unless ordered by military authorities," according to the instructions. It may well be that under certain conditions . . . the military authorities may not permit civilians on the highway or out of their homes. You are to look to your air raid warden exclusively for instructions.

"In other words you are not to move unless your air raid warden instructs you to do so, and in such event you are to follow his instructions implicitly."

Evacuation of the civilian population will be authorized only in the event of military action causing large conflagration, destruction of many homes or in case of a threatened invasion whereby this area might become a combat zone, the evacuation instruction cards point out. Type of evacuation—whether mass evacuation of the entire area or evacuation of small localized areas—will be dictated by the necessity at the time of action and will be carried out under military orders.

The cards also contain information concerning the procedure should such orders come and what personal goods should be taken along.

Those who have not received their cards may do so by calling at the civilian defense office in the city hall.

R.C. Men Head Easter Seal Drive

J. Elmer Morrish and Dr. Richard Ames, both of Redwood City, have been named to conduct the sale of Easter Seals for the benefit of handicapped youngsters in San Mateo County, Sam D. Merk of San Mateo, president of the San Mateo County Society for Crippled Children, announced today.

The seal sale, part of a national movement sponsored by the National Society for Crippled Children, will continue through Apr. 25.

The seals are being sent to householders through the mail, and the returns are devoted to assisting numbers of children who otherwise would have no chance to lead a normal life, Merk said.

Toastmasters Hear Talk on Rations

Food rationing from the viewpoint of the man behind the canned foods and meat counters—the store manager—was presented to the Toastmasters Club at its meeting this week by Guido Brandolini, for more than five years a store manager.

Although it may be confusing for housewives for point values on rationed items to change, to the storeman it means rubbing out and remarking point values on more than 2000 items.

Other speakers were Scovel S. Mayo, Dr. William Gordon, and James Hagan.

Rev. Earl D. Carter was chairman for the evening and Dr. Virgil A. Anderson served as critic.

OPERETTA: Sequoians Take Part

The sound values of farm life as compared with the frivolous life of the city will be demonstrated in "Life on the Farm," operetta by Otis M. Carrington which will be presented at Sequoia High School Apr. 8 and 9.

Proceeds from the production, which will be presented Apr. 8 for the students and Apr. 9 at an evening performance for the public, will be used in purchasing war bonds to be awarded to the student victory gardeners. The entire Sequoia music department will participate, with Carrington directing the 125 voices and Max Gelber conducting the school orchestra.

Main characters for the operetta will be played by Bruce McNeil as Uncle Bob; Joyce MacKenzie, Mrs. O'Brien; Nancy Ann Squires, Rosalie; Margaret Gates, Winifred; Maujean Schmidt, Millicent; Mary Whiting, Mrs. Gabble; Walter Bradshaw, Mr. Gabble; Pat Dolan, Martha, and Don Gaylord, Nick.

The production will supplant the annual spring concert this year.

Salary Standardization May Be Delayed in County

San Mateo County employes today faced the possibility that salary standarization, provided in 1942 charter amendments, will be delayed for a year.

The County Civil Service Commission informed the board of supervisors Tuesday that it cannot complete in time the studies necessary for the standard salary schedule. The commission asked the board to proceed as usual with a salary ordinance, recognizing that certain adjustments in salary base should be considered.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey objected to the delay and at his request the board asked the commission to make every possible effort to complete its study in time for the start of the 1943-44 fiscal year.

"The delay is a great disappointment," declared Winfield Scott, representing the San Mateo County Civic League. "Inequalities prevail. It is too bad that we are enveloped in a mesh of red tape from Sacramento."

It was explained that the salary studies are being made by the State Personnel Board, which is handicapped by lack of trained help.

Chairman Fred E. Beer pointed out that if the 1943-44 salary scale is written into the salary ordinance it may be impossible to change the pay scales during the fiscal year. If the ordinance may be rescinded, the standardized salaries could be adopted later.

In accordance with other 1942 charter amendments, the board:

(1) Signed a contract with the state to make a survey of county employes for the purpose of establishing a retirement system. The cost will be $1.25 per employe.

(2) Placed three South County water districts, operated through the board of supervisors, under control of the county engineer. Persons previously appointed to manage the Willow Rd., Ravenswood and East Palo Alto districts were instructed to transfer their records to the engineer immediately to allow him to prepare 1943-44 budgets. Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan explained that this procedure would be required under the code of civil procedure, now in course of preparation.

Estate Bulk Will Go To Husband

Mrs. Jessie Hooper Greaves of Woodside, member of a socially prominent Peninsula family who died Mar. 22 in Palo Alto, left the bulk of her estate, valued "in excess of $10,000," to her husband, Thomas P. Greaves, a will filed for probate in superior court at Redwood City today revealed.

Mrs. Greaves left specific bequests of $11,600 to relatives and friends, and personal effects to her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Hildegarde B. Cobrunsen of Saratoga and Mrs. Elizabeth B. Brown of Palo Alto. Her one-fifth interest in Woodside property, owned in common with brothers and sisters, was willed to Greaves, who filed the petition for probate.

Seven and one-half per cent of her estate was left to Christine Brown Loomis, a cousin, Arroyo Grande; 1½ per cent to Eugenia Beatty Wright, a grand niece, Atherton; 25 per cent to Greaves, and the rest to Wells Fargo Bank in trust in two parts, for benefit of her daughters.

Mrs. Greaves' will was dated May, 7, 1942.

Sequoia Students Aid CD

Doris Sylvester, one of the scores of Sequoia students who have been assisting the civilian defense council and the home food production committee, interviews Edwin Hunt, Sequoia teacher, about his intentions of planting a victory garden. On the same visit she also gave him the CD evacuation instructions. Donald L. Cherry, another Sequoia teacher, snapped the photo.

ACTION: 18 Requests Rejected

The State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles announced Monday it denied parole applications of 18 convicted murderers, including two from San Mateo County:

Ralph Jerome Selz, 34, who pleaded guilty to killing Mrs. Ada French Rice of Woodside Glens in 1935 and burying her body in a lime-filled grave in a remote Skyline Blvd. area.

B. H. (Buster) Haley, Palo Alto Negro car washer, who shot Mrs. Zettie Gaines, Dumbarton Oaks Negress, Jan. 8, 1932. Haley was sentenced to life imprisonment by the late Judge Franklin Swart.

The Selz case, considered one of the most dramatic in San Mateo County criminal history, "broke" Mar. 10, 1936, shortly after Selz, a San Mateo service station attendant, started serving a county jail term for perpetrating a hold-up hoax. Mrs. Rice, at whose home he lived, disappeared June 13, 1935. Selz obtained a deed to her property and withdrew funds from her bank account. He confessed, led officers to the body, and two days later was sent to San Quentin.

Selz's court hearing, from the time he was arraigned before Justice E. I. McAuliffe in police court until he was sentenced by Judge A. R. Cotton in superior court, required 50 minutes.

Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell requested that the death sentence be not pronounced because Selz had aided the murder investigation.

State Tax Agent To Aid R. C. Residents

A tax examiner will be at the courthouse Apr. 5 and 6 to assist those who are filing state income tax returns, Thomas F. Feeney, area income tax supervisor, announced today.

The matter of filing income tax returns should be given immediate attention in order to avoid penalty and interest charges for late filing, Feeney said. Single persons whose net income amounts to $1000 or married couples whose net income amounts to $2500 are required to file a return.

The continuing of Willow Rd. through the Hopkins Estate to the state highway was advocated 25 years ago by the late John MacBain when he was supervisor. The proposition was opposed by the late Timothy Hopkins who owned the land. The matter was dropped. The widening of Willow Rd. from the Dumbarton bridge to El Camino Real would make it one of the most popular thoroughfares on the Peninsula.

Work on the government hospital on the site of the old Hopkins mansion is progressing rapidly. An office has been erected on Oak Grove Ave., and soon other structures will be started. CHINA AID: R.C. Club Sends Check

A check for $33 has been sent to C. T. Feng, Chinese consul general, for presentation to Madame Chiang Kai-Shek by the 10 members of Redwood City Squadron 124888 of the Write-a-Fighter Club, Mrs. B. John Nordstrand, adviser of the club, announced today.

The check, which is designated for the us of Madame Chiang in war relief among her people, represents $17 in pennies collected by the children of the club through their jars recently placed in Redwood City banks, stores and war plants, plus funds raised by selling bread slicers—the last one vended the day before sliced bread reappeared in the markets—and through the sale of rags and scrap metals.

The children's work for aid to China represents only one of the activities carried on by the club, for the members recently collected 1000 items of clothing for shipment to Russia and has Ooee Gooee and Heinie Hinkel—manufactured two dummies—to be auctioned off soon in the "Buy a Bomber" Campaign here.

Old Age Pensions Show Decrease

The 1183 persons receiving old age assistance in San Mateo County during February, 1943, represent one per cent less than the number for February a year ago—1193—the California Taxpayers Assn. announced today.

Average payment in the county was $36.64 this February, compared with $36.24 a year ago, the association stated. Total aid extended to the aged amounted to $43,34 last month and $43,-239 a year ago.

The state, as a whole, showed a decrease of four per cent in the number receiving aid, the group said.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE: Wilsey Announces Formation of County Recreation Corps

Earl P. Wilsey, chairman of the San Mateo County Civilian Defense Council, today called attention to the organization of the first Citizens Service Corps for Recreation within the county, the Three Cities corps of which had its first meeting last week.

Purpose of the corps, Wilsey pointed out, is to co-ordinate all related agencies to meet the needs for wartime recreation. In stressing the importance of this, Wilsey said:

"In a time of war, when normal strains are multiplied many times, everyone needs healthful recreation more than ever before. Our soldiers on leave, workers in our defense industries and their families all need increased opportunities for play. All the people, in every size community, need new outlets for self-expression off the job.

"In addition to the need for adult recreation, there is great need for increased directed activity for our youth," he continued. "In time of war juvenile delinquency increases, for youth, too, feels the strain and tension under which we all are living. The Citizens Service Corps for Recreation is an attempt to bring about the greatest force for meeting these needs. Recreation departments, youth agencies such as Boy Scouts, YMCA, USO, Red Cross, AWVS and similar agencies are being asked to unite in this effort to better serve our people."

L. Herbert Harris is the recently appointed co-ordinator of recreation under civilian defense for San Mateo County. Recognition will be given for work in this corps the same as in all other civilian defense branches.

Dematteis Criticizes Sanatoriums

Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis at inquests held in Redwood City into four deaths took Belmont sanatorium officials to task for failure to notify county authorities of violent deaths at their institutions.

Dematteis particularly reprimanded Dr. Allen H. Williams, medical director of Twin Pines Sanatorium, for not notifying officials of self-inflicted wounds of Dr. Charles P. Hauselt, San Francisco dentist, who died Mar. 19 in Mills Memorial Hospital, San Mateo—three days after he cut his throat with a razor.

A coroner's jury sitting in Franklin & Crowe Mortuary found that Dr. Hauselt came to his death "from self-inflicted razor wound on throat. Suicide." Dr. Hauselt had been a patient at the Twin Pines Sanatorium for five days.

The jury found that Paul Marin, 30-year-old patient at the Alexander Sanatorium, Belmont, "met death from gun shot wound, inflicted in self-defense by an officer of the law in Belmont on Mar. 19... while the officer was attempting to perform his duty."

Marin, who suddenly went berserk at the sanatorium on the morning he was killed, was shot and killed by California Highway Patrolman Walter S. Swope of Burlingame when Marin threatened to kill him with an axe. The shooting came after Belmont Police Chief Fred A. Johnson and deputy sheriffs had tried for more than an hour to subdue Marin, a 6-foot 4-inch 230-pounder.

Eligio Gonzales, 42, met death in South San Francisco Mar. 15 from multiple skull fractures, with severe brain damage, incurred in the course of his employment at the Metal Thermit Corp., the coroner's jury found. "Unavoidable accident" was the verdict.

"Accidental death" was the verdict in the death of Clarence Arnold Svacina, 25, 1510 Kentfield Ave., Redwood City, who was killed Mar. 8 when the motorcycle he was driving went out of control on Union Ave., Redwood City. He died from a ruptured liver.

Crosby Jr. Says He Plans No Change

William Crosby Jr., manager of the William Crosby & Co. Mortuary, Burlingame, said today he was not going to change the firm's name just because the county grand jury has recommended that the title of the funeral home be changed to avoid confusion in the public mind between the undertaking parlor and the name of William Crosby Sr., county coroner and public administrator.

Crosby said he had not discussed the matter with the senior Mr. Crosby but that as far as he was concerned he does not plan to change the name.

From other offices, the grand jury report, given late Monday, received favorable comment.

Grand Jury Submits Recommendations

San Mateo County today had before it seven major recommendations from the 1942-43 grand jury. Major proposals in the 69-page report submitted to Judge A. R. Cotton in superior court at 5 p.m. Monday were (1) hiring an expert criminal investigator, (2) revision of the county claims and requisition system to prevent deadlocks, (3) construction of a new fire station in Redwood City for the county forest service.

After receiving the report Judge Cotton ordered Foreman James B. Howell and the jurors to remain in session for the time being to handle any problem which may require their services. From the bench he thanked the jurors for their earnestness, their serious and sensible report, and said they were entitled to the thanks of the county, its citizens and officials. He shook hands with each of the 12 jurors present.

In his letters of transmittal, one to Judge Cotton and the other to the board of supervisors, Howell pointed out that the recommendations were unanimous, and urged that they be put into immediate effect.

The jury was impanelled Mar. 13, 1942.

The jury recommended that the board of supervisors hire an expert criminal investigator, attached to either the district attorney's or sheriff's office, to be available to any county police department. Pointing out that the incidence of major crime does not warrant any city department to retain a trained investigator, the jury declared that the district attorney's office "has to sit back and wait for the arresting officers to produce the evidence and is compelled to go to trial upon whatever evidence the police department can procure."

Such a situation would not be tolerated in any large city, said the letter.

"A special homicide or criminal investigator could be attached to the district attorney's office and made available to all of the law enforcement bodies. Such a man would not be in a competitive field because the district attorney's office is not a police department," the letter said. "The expense of such a special investigator would be borne by the county as a whole. . . . This specialist could be part of the sheriff's office and assigned to the district attorney's office, or he could be part of the district attorney's 'staff.'"

In his remarks to the judge, Howell said that because the county executive and purchasing agent are the same person, claims are sometimes deadlocked in his office. The jury recommended (1) that claims submitted to the executive and not acted upon for 30 days be considered rejected for purpose of additional action by the board of supervisors, and (2) that requisitions submitted to the purchasing agent without action for a similar period be referred to a committee composed of the district attorney, controller and treasurer which shall file a written report binding upon the purchasing agent. Such provisions would be incorporated in the code of procedure now being prepared in accordance with 1942 charter amendments.

The jury found the forest service headquarters housed in a 50-year-old, wholly inadequate structure with $30,000 worth of equipment stored in an open air garage. It recommended that a new office, barracks, warehouse and repair shop be erected on county property adjoining the county detention home in Redwood City.

The jury placed on its "immediate" list, with the claims and criminal investigator recommendations, a proposal that superior court reporters be paid $1200 per annum in addition to their present fees because of the increase in court work.

Other major proposals:

That the sheriff hire a full-time civilian cook to replace "trusty" cooks now used, provide open air exercise for prisoners, and road work or other useful occupations for prisoners serving six months or more.

That piece work typists in the recorder's office be paid salaries and given vacations with pay.

That the name of Coroner William F. Crosby be removed from a mortuary business in Burlingame.

That the county librarian be provided with a station wagon and larger quarters in Redwood City.

Objective of the report, Howell pointed out, was to show the people of the county how each department of county government functions, its cost of operation and revenues, personnel and duties.

"In conclusion," the letter of transmittal said, "we are of the unanimous opinion that the establishment of a civil service commission in the county and the designation of the county executive as the administrative officer of the board of supervisors will tend to promote harmony in the conduct of the affairs of the county."

Laundering Curtains at Home

Laundries are so busy these days that some of us are tackling the job of washing those dainty, frilly and sheer glass curtains at home for the first time. It's not such a problem, provided you treat them with a little extra care, and don't try to wash them as you would Junior's rompers.

Get the Size—Shake out the dust, then measure the curtains accurately. To prepare them for the suds, fold them lengthwise, then crosswise, and crosswise again if they are very long. This folding prevents them from getting tangled or twisted.

Washing—Soak curtains in moderately warm, mild soap suds for 15 to 30 minutes. Two soakings may be necessary if the curtains are very soiled. Squeeze water out (NEVER TWIST OR WRING CURTAINS). If washed in a machine, tie curtains loosely in a cheesecloth bag to prevent tangling. This is not necessary if they are washed by hand. Use moderately warm suds, and agitate, or "squish" in the suds. Rinse thoroughly in warm water, starch according to the directions given for curtains on your package of starch. Dry white curtains in the sun and colored and ecru ones in the shade. If you have a curtain stretcher, you are fortunate. Otherwise, hang lengthwise on the line.

Ironing—When almost dry, stretch curtains to their original measurements and press with a moderately hot iron, lengthwise of the material. They may be folded lengthwise for ironing.

For Faded Curtains—Give them a new lease on life with a tint or dye. To remove old colors, use a mild bleaching agent.

Spic 'n' Span

The whole house should gleam with that spic and span look after the spring cleaning. That means that besides doing the general cleaning, every little scratch, discoloration, flaw here and there has been taken care of.

Housecleaning isn't what it used to be now that we've a host of modern cleaners of all sorts on the market . . . cleaner for windows, cleaner for upholstery, cleaner for walls, cleaner for just about everything. And take it from me, they do a wonderful job. I am greatly in favor of anything that makes life easier for the homemaker.

But these new cleaners aren't the only things that star during cleaning time. Common household items like salt and vinegar, can do all kinds of miracles around cleaning time.

SALT—

. . . Cleans those brown and grey stains on the bathtub and basin with utmost efficiency. Pour salt on a slightly dampened cloth and scour. It is especially good for hard water stains.

. . . Removes stains and discoloration from china, earthenware and pottery. Moisten salt and rub spot with it.

. . . Cleans and brightens brass, copper and pewter when used with an equal amount of vinegar. Add a little flour to the mixture to make a paste, rub it on the article, let it dry, and then rub off. Wash and polish and watch the sparkle.

VINEGAR—

. . . Equal parts of vinegar and linseed oil make a very good furniture polish. Mix together, shake well, rub on furniture and then polish with the grain of the wood. It brings out hidden beauty.

. . Cuts the grease on stoves, in ovens, and on broilers like magic. Saturate a rag with vinegar and go over the greasy portions. Soak stubborn parts in soapy suds that contain vinegar.

. . Cleans brick and tile fireplaces quickly and easily. Just wash the surfaces with a cloth saturated with vinegar.

. . . Removes grease smudges on walls, or painted woodwork. Use it full strength on a cloth.

. . . Hot vinegar removes paint from windows. Apply it with a cloth, then remove quickly with a paint scraper. No long scraping necessary.

. . . Brightens faded rugs. About a half cup of vinegar added to a quart of water, then swept over a faded rug brings back its forgotten color.
